Coleman Competitors Win Trophies and Prizes at Festival

Orchestral Selections Highlights of Festival

Hillcrest and Cranbrook Musicians Playing Delights Large Audience on Closing Night--Cranbrook Anglican Choir and Choral Society Give Fine Selections

Crows Nest Pass Choral Society Brings Surprise With Fine Performance

The closing session of the musical festival on Saturday night opened with brilliant presentations by Crows Nest Pass Amateur Symphony Orchestra, W. H. Moser conducting, and Cranbrook Symphony Orchestra, Wm. Raven conducting. The latter gave as their selections "The Magic Flute," and a spirited march, entitled "Pomp and Circumstance." Crows Nest Pass orchestra played "Reve Angelique" by A. Rubenstein, and "Valse Triole" by Jean Sibelius. Though the adjudicator's award went to the local orchestra, there was very little to choose between the high marks obtained by both, and as far as the audience could tell, the difference was imperceptible.

As a tribute to the visiting orchestra, Mr. Raven, conductor, was given an enthusiastic ovation when called to the stage by the president, H. T. Halliwell, who on behalf of the festival committee and the large audience expressed appreciation of the visit of the orchestra and their fine performance. Appreciation also was expressed for the co-operation of Cranbrook Choral Society, Mr. David Morgan, conductor, and Cranbrook Anglican Church Choir.

Mr. Sjodin, for five years president of Cranbrook musical festival, at the afternoon session gave a short address, in which he stated that the fine spirit of co-operation existing between the Crows Nest Pass and Cranbrook festivals contributed equally to the success of both.

Festival Notes

Coleman school orchestra deserves complementing on being awarded 80 marks in the competition at the musical festival. Miss May Powell has done well in developing such a good combination of players in a short time. Hillcrest school orchestra under Mr. W. H. Moser were awarded 78 marks, and both orchestras delighted the audience with selections of their own choice.

A highlight among individual players was the violin playing of John Pietraszko, who was awarded three cups in the various classes.

"Who is Sylvia?" sung by Cranbrook Anglican church choir on Saturday afternoon, in addition to their festival competition numbers, was indeed a treat. This choir, with Mr. A. E. Turner conducting, sang "Jesu, The Very Thought is Sweet," and "I Saw Lovely Phylis." All numbers were sung unaccompanied, and the choir was highly complimented by the adjudicator, who regretted there were not other church choirs from this district to enter the competition.

Two surprises of the festival were the male voice choir under T. S. Beynon and the choral society under his direction. Few knew of their existence, yet they sang difficult numbers which secured the adjudicator's award over Cranbrook.

W. J. Harris' string quartette including Tom Uphill, Fred Harris and M. Picard also won acclaim in competition with Blairmore and Hillcrest, being awarded marks of 82; Hillcrest 81 and Blairmore 80. Kenyon Johnson's bass voice was splendid, and many remarked that with proper teaching he should be qualified to take his place on any concert platform.

Fred Blazenko is another promising young violinist heard to advantage at the festival.

So well did Olwen Brown play her competition pieces on the piano that she was asked by the adjudicator to play again at a later performance. She won the Moser Challenge Cup for highest marks in piano.

Electric Light for E. Coleman

A meeting recently held in East Coleman to discuss the extension of the electric light system was addressed in the Polish hall by Mayor Pattinson and O. E. S. Whiteside. As a result a petition has been signed by the majority of the householders agreeing to install lights, and a rate will be proposed by the light company as soon as it is decided how many users there will be.

First Aid Classes

St. John Ambulance Association announce that lectures to classes in first aid will commence on Sunday, Nov. 4, at 1 p.m. in Central school. All members and those interested are requested to attend.—J. M. Rushton, Sec.-treas.

Thefts Reported to Police

A Chevrolet coach owned by Leonard Lewis of Hillcrest was stolen from the lane at the rear of H. Snowden's house on Main street during the night of Oct. 24-25. It was discovered two days later in the vicinity of Albert Knowles' ranch, in an almost inaccessible spot, and it is reported had to be hoisted by some distance before it could be operated under its own power. Some boys hunting discovered it, and the police were informed. The car it is alleged, contained goods stolen from a store at Lundbreck. Further investigation is being made to discover the culprits.

Another theft case was that of a suit case from Central school, which police were called to investigate. The case was left by Miss Powell, high school teacher, containing sheet music and other articles. It had been emptied and the case taken.

Two bowling teams motored to Cranbrook on Wednesday to play a return engagement with Cranbrook. The men's team composed of Rinaldi, Rushton, Rypien, Lohr and Ledieu were successful in winning their three game series but the ladies team of Mae Bell, C. Sappeta, A. Hedberg, H. Hedberg, I. Atkinson and P. McDonald lost out by a margin of thirteen points in their three game series.

SILENT PERIOD ON NOVEMBER ELEVENTH

OTTAWA.—The "great silence" between 11 a.m. and 11.02 a.m. on Nov. 11 will be observed in Canada, and the government has issued instructions to provincial and municipal authorities to arrange for suspension of all vehicular traffic during these two minutes. Railway and water transport will not be suspended.

Announcement by Secretary of State C. H. Cahan tonight declared that the king had approved of Canada's arrangements for observing the two minutes silence.

Oddfellows and Rebekahs Gather to Honor Long Service Members

From Pincher Creek to Natal—Michel Members Assemble for Unique Gathering

The Oddfellows hall presented a gay and festive appearance last Thursday night when the Oddfellows and Rebekah lodges met together to present jewels to members with long and honorable service in the Order.

Prior to the elaborate dinner, jewels were presented for 25 years continuous membership in the Order to Bros J. H. Boulton, H. W. Clark, McKen Hunter and John Hatfield. (The latter by proxy to T. Higginsbotham.) District deputy grand master H. Clements made the presentation with a few congratulatory words.

Following above, jewels representing 15 years membership were handed to Mrs. C. F. Danlop and Mrs. J. L. Lonsbury on behalf of the Rebekah lodge by Mrs. Wm. Hoggan.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans who are leaving the town were also recipients of presents. The former received a framed picture of Crows Nest, presented on behalf of the Oddfellows lodge by Granville Greenhalgh, who also acted as chairman during the evening. Mrs. Evans received a beautiful vase filled with a bouquet of roses and carnations presented by Mrs. Ford on behalf of the Rebekah lodge. There were about 100 present, members and friends coming from Pincher Creek and other points and also from towns in B. C.

Great credit is due for the beautiful decorations and success of everything to the committee in charge of E. V. Pret and Mrs. L. Bogg for Oddfellows and Rebekahs respectively.

The occasion was a unique one as it is the first time such a ceremony has been carried out. The jewels are very beautiful and the recipients are highly delighted with them. Dancing and community singing was enjoyed during the latter part of the evening.

A. F. Cady, for several years sales agent in Winnipeg for McGillivray Creek Coal Co., returned on Wednesday and will reside here for the present.

Working feverishly throughout night with mine rescue teams standing by, bulkheads constructed to smother fire by cutting off air

SILENT TO-DAY—Tippie of International Coal Co.

At 8 this morning General Manager Whit-side stated that the fire had been sealed in by construction of bulkheads of brick and cement during the night by working parties under extremely hazardous difficulties, with mine rescue and first aid teams administering aid to men working on the far side where poisonous gases were being generated by the fire.

Supt J. A. McLeod, who had been on duty for 24 hours without rest, stated that men had to dash in, place what material they could and retire, and though working under protection of gas masks, several were gassed and fell. Other officials, fire hoses and workers, experienced a hectic night, as with fire raging the every day risks of mining were increased a hundred-fold.

Mute evidence of the deadly fumes was the dead body of a little canary in its cage in the mine office this morning, while two others had been revived by a whiff of oxygen carried by rescue teams in the mine.

The fire was detected Wednesday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock by the smell of smoke drifting towards York Creek, from a spot about 1 1/2 miles from the Coleman entrance. All hands immediately made exit, some by the main slope, others by air shafts, two minor injuries being suffered in the hurried escape. Smoke was noticed coming from Fan 98, near York Creek.

The People's Responsibility

No apology need be offered to the readers of this column, we feel sure, for again discussing the same subject that formed the topic of last week's comment namely, the ever mounting toll of deaths and serious injuries attributable to automobile accidents. The most effective way of minimizing as far as possible these tragedies is, it will be admitted, the arousing of public opinion because, unless public opinion is aroused, all the preventive laws in the world will not prove effective.

In conversation with the writer the other day a mother of a family, careful, conscientious, intelligent and of the very best type of Canadian citizenship, one who takes a keen and active interest in all movements for the betterment of the community and province in which she lives, stated that only recently she and her husband had had the narrowest of escapes from a serious and probably fatal car accident. Let us recall the simple circumstances.

Driving at a moderate rate, her husband at the wheel came to a point where the making of a left turn was necessary. He proceeded to make it. At the same moment the driver of a car behind them speeding at forty miles an hour decided to pass ahead. Without slackening speed and without sounding his horn in warning to the car ahead, he shot past, thus violating the rules of the road in at least two respects. He side-swiped the car in which the lady and her husband were driving, smashed a headlight to smithereens, tore off the front bumper, and all but wrecked the car. But, added the lady, we too, were to blame because my husband had neglected to put out his hand indicating his intention to make the left turn. Fortunately no person was hurt.

All simple things, failure to sound a horn before attempting to pass the car ahead, failure to reduce speed when overtaking and passing the car ahead, failure of the car ahead to indicate its proposed change of direction, and three lives of the driver, several children narrowly escaped being orphaned, two families barely saved from lasting sorrow and much suffering. The laws were sound enough, a policeman right on the spot could not have enforced those laws in time to prevent a tragedy. Two individuals were alone responsible for placing their own lives and that of others in jeopardy. Either one of them could have avoided this near calamity.

It is probable that as these lines are being written other near-accidents of a more or less similar nature are taking place, and possibly serious injuries and even death are the result. Who is to blame? The people themselves. Nobody else. And such accidents will continue and will multiply until people by observing all laws and regulations, and through the exercise of proper caution at all times, put an end to such accidents.

In this article, too, emphasis may well be placed upon the terrible menace of "glaring headlights". They are prohibited by law, yet are to be found upon practically every road and highway every night. Glaring headlights—which blind the driver, severely handicap him, making it impossible for him to judge his distance from the approaching car which has blinded him or to see what is ahead of him. And because one car has such lights burning, the other driver refuses to dim his lights, and two high powered cars run at all other, sometimes they pass safely, sometimes they do not, and all too frequently even when a head-on crash does not result, one or both cars ends up in the ditch, or meets some other adverse fate.

The owner of the "glaring lights" is apparently quite reckless and indifferent to the fact that by blinding the driver of approaching cars he may be inviting his own death, because the blinded driver may smash into him; and when driver No. 2 refuses to dim his lights because the other fellow did not, he is only multiplying his own risks because he is blinding the other fellow. Again, who is to blame for the catastrophes which so frequently follow? Not the law, because the actions of these car drivers is unlawful. Nor can any army of policemen be maintained along every highway to enforce the law. The best that is possible is to make examples of people when they can be caught.

It is people themselves who are to blame, and it is well nigh impossible to identify the culprits because the glaring lights renders the taking of car license number extremely difficult. It is public opinion that must first be aroused and educated to put a stop to these violations. It is not legislators, governments and police forces which alone have responsibility in this matter; the greatest responsibility rests with the individual citizen. And until individual citizens in far greater numbers than at present discharge that responsibility, humanity must pay the price, and this terrible toll rest upon our much vaunted civilization.

Way to Ease Headaches, Pain Almost Instantly

METHOD OFTEN RELIEVES NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATIC PAINS IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes.

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get in 12 tablets or economical bottle of 21 or 100 at any druggist's.

Japan Starts At Six

Boys Begin Their Military Training At Early Age

Italy has started to train all boys from the age of eight years; but that is two years later than the time set in Japan where boys begin their military education at the age of six, using rifle rifles and machine guns but with blank cartridges at twelve years of age. Every Japanese boy imbibes the philosophy that it is a great and glorious thing to die for the emperor and for Japan. It will be remembered that Japan has evolved a new kind of submarine, guided by a man inside who steers it at a warship or other target, knowing that impact means not only explosion of the torpedo but death to himself; yet it is said there are more volunteers than available torpedoes.

In Seventeenth Century Tea Was Supposed To Be Slimming

Tea, in the seventeenth century, was recommended as a means of slimming. In an exhibition now in the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, of English silversmiths' work is quoted an old advertisement which says that China Tea, or Tia Tea, is "of great avail to men of corpulent bodies and to such as eat meat." Apparently the ladies were not so keen on slimming in those days. Tea-drinking, anyhow, must have been rather a trial when it was first introduced into this country, for the small bowls out of which the liquid was drunk had no handles, and people were compelled to hold them by the lip or poised in their fingers.

Census Taker Turns Dentist

Extracted Teeth For Indians During Tour Of James Bay Area

When Rev. J. Emile Solondov went to work for the Dominion bureau of statistics, he was a competent census taker, but to-day, as a result of his official labors, he is a first-rate amateur dentist.

He was engaged by the bureau to take a census of the Indians living along the eastern shore of James Bay. But he found that wherever he went in pursuit of figures, he was met by appeals from residents to extract their aching teeth.

At one remote spot he sat down and solemnly pulled out Indians' teeth for several hours. Altogether he made more than 100 extractions during his tour.

Making It Clear

K. C. Banks proposed to post himself to British Columbia, and thought it advisable that he should be marked: "This way up." In the event of his deciding on a mail, and yet wishing to wear a hat, the following note on past history may be useful. Toward the end of the war a gage was obtained for the R.A.F. which the makers marked: "To be stored upside down." The air ministry added the instruction: "To avoid confusion, the bottom should be called the top."

Heart disease held third place among causes of death in the United States in 1900; in 1930 it had become the leading cause.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING REVEAL?

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT (Grapho-Analyst) (All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: Not for a long time, has a series of articles aroused such interest as this series on Character from Handwriting. Hundreds of readers have written, requesting a general analysis of their own writing, and the author invites you to send in for a reading. See the announcement at the foot of the article.)

This week, a gentleman from out West wrote to ask me for my advice. He is a widower, with two young children, and feels that he should marry again, so that his children will have the proper attention.

He has been corresponding with several ladies, and sends me specimens of his pen writing, and that of his several correspondents, with a view to finding which one is most suitable for him.

His own writing is that of a quiet unassuming man. There is little aggressiveness shown in his writing, and he is of a rather shy nature, somewhat aloof—not because he does not feel things, but because he is a nature of a different kind. He has a deep capacity for feeling, but is backward in expressing that emotion.

His handwriting is a deal of generosity. And he has a very cultured mind. He likes good literature, and art, will have an especial fascination for them.

The writing of the lady I shall call No. 1 shows a very emotional nature. She is at the back and end of her emotions. She has a quick temper, likely to flare out at any time, and will very likely do things, and say things, in that mood, for which she will be sorry afterwards after the danger is over.

She is generous, and there is a good deal of affection in her nature. And she exudes energy. She must be always on the go.

Here is the type that expresses itself in bridge parties, organizing teas and social gatherings. She will be in her element as a club organizer. Taking up the writing of No. 2, I find a totally different personality. She has an even temperament, well-balanced, and unlikely to be either too reserved on the one hand, or of the hysterical type on the other. She has a calm and normal temperament.

She displays quite a lot of generosity, has a good deal of enthusiasm, but will rarely get excited. She has a neat and orderly mind, and is a very good mother. She is a little fastidious, but she is also kindly, and is considerate of others.

No. 3 has a more virile type of personality. Her writing tells me at once that she is unreliable. She is very deceitful, and shows marked attention to her own interests. She looks after herself, first, last and all the time.

Many of my readers will have little difficulty in judging which of my correspondents' lady friends I recommended. No. 2 has the qualities that will make my correspondent happy. She will not jar his susceptibilities, and she will be kind and attentive to his children, and she will make him a good wife.

Let this well-known Grapho-Analyst tell you the secrets revealed by your handwriting. He will also tell you what your friends really think of you. Send specimens of the writing you want analysed, and enclose 10c coin for each. Send your specimens addressed envelope, to: Lawrence Hibbert, care of Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, Man. All letters are strictly confidential, and replies will be sent as soon as possible, but please allow about two weeks for your reply.

Toronto Man Picks A Hundred Choice Samples Of Fruit From Tree

From a frail-looking banana tree left over from the Jamaica exhibition at the Canadian National Exhibition two years ago, Arthur J. Frost has picked about 100 bananas which are said to be superior in flavor to the imported fruit.

He planted the tree in his greenhouse in Toronto and early this year it reached such a height the roof had to be raised. Budds appeared in April, turned up like coils of corn. Further development they ripened. There are still 100 bananas, varying in degrees of ripeness, on the tree.

Rubber Collar Stud One Of New Gadgets Shown

A humane collar button guaranteed not to torture the wearer by digging into his neck, was among hundreds of newly patented devices displayed at the Exhibition of Inventions, which was opened in London recently.

Made of rubber, the new stud is attached to the shirt to make dressing easier, and its inventor says it can withstand laundering.

Most of the exhibits were gadgets to make housekeeping simpler. There was a combination brush and pan that lifts dust by pressure on the handle, an automatic window cleaner that does away with the use of a stepladder, and a self-emptying broom box.

One ambitious entrant exhibited double-deck neckties, and another showed an egg-opener that lifts the top of a boiled egg neatly off without cutting the yolk.

But there were more pretentious exhibits, too. One was a four-legged frame on wheels for teaching the baby to walk. Another was a "sound piano" with apparatus that produces color corresponding to the notes and rhythm of the music.

A hopeful inventor from Somerset exhibited a new device for tripping, which he said was already being used in several hospitals.

The British building boom was reflected in an unusually large number of simple locks for doors, sink filters, adjustable draught excluders and new compositions for making bricks.

Takes Place Of Sails

"Autogyro Aeroplane Windmill" Is Success In Tests

A most interesting experiment, which may be attended with important results, has been tried out by Lieut.-Colonel Moore-Brabazon, M.P., noted British aviator. He has constructed a boat with what is called "autogyro aeroplane windmill" to take the place of sails. The principle of the autogyro is applied to the sailing vessel, with this important difference that the blades are fitted to the mast vertically, looking like a windmill's arms. It is reported that the method has come fully up to expectations, the boat making almost as good headway against the wind as with it, the blades being rotated by the wind from whatever quarter it blows. In a twenty-mile-an-hour wind the blades turn at 200 revolutions per minute, at which rate the tips of the blades are travelling at 200 miles per hour. Once the autogyro is rotating, there is nothing else to be done about it but steer. Results of the experiment are now receiving the expert consideration of the Royal Aeronautical Society. Hamilton Spectator.

Mostly Pedestrians

More than 7,000 road accidents which resulted in 7,202 deaths were analyzed by British police, who found that only 219 of the dead were drivers of motor cars, while, 3,517 were pedestrians, 1,324 bicyclists and 1,308 motorcyclists.

Young People's Training

Appeal Is Made For Support Of Recreational Centres

An appeal to Canadians to rally to the support of young people's training and recreational centres was made at Montreal by A. O. Dawson, president of the Canadian chamber of commerce, coincident with the campaign of financial federations now in progress, in Winnipeg and Vancouver.

"In the absence of a job and the opportunity limited to so few for higher education, community centres which depend upon the voluntary support of private citizens are the last line of defence between restless youth and demoralizing idleness," Mr. Dawson declared.

Old Reliable Remedy

Still Best For Chapped Skin

Rough, chapped hands are irritating and ugly. They are also a source of danger from infection, when the skin becomes very raw and cracked from exposure.

The old reliable remedy—Hinds Honey and Almond Cream—is still a favorite remedy after being on the market for over 50 years. Ever since 1873 this soothing, healing lotion has been the choice of men and women in every walk of life, for its instant relief from suffering, rapid healing and remarkable protective qualities.

In cold weather, hands, neck and face need protection to keep them free from chapping and danger of infection. Hinds Honey and Almond Cream is easy to use—quickly absorbed by the skin and leaves no trace of stickiness. Men like it for shaving. Any druggist can supply you.

Bones Of Gigantic Animal Found On Ontario Farm

Charles Jeffery, farmer near Windsor, Ont., reported he had found on his farm remains of a gigantic animal with teeth weighing from three to five pounds. He said he had dug up five teeth, all of them in a good state of preservation.

Jeffery declared he had found another bone which he believed to be part of the animal's foreleg, weighing more than 15 pounds. The bones were about two feet below the surface.

Dramatic Resignation Of Hon. H. H. Stevens Occasions Political Shock

Ottawa.—Despite the resignation of Hon. H. H. Stevens, inquiry into price spreads, mass buying and unsatisfactory business methods will continue. This much, on the definite statement of Premier R. B. Bennett, emerged from the flood of rumor, speculation and recrimination which followed Mr. Stevens' dramatic departure from the Bennett government.

Canadian political circles received their biggest shock since the Meighen-King dradlock of 1926 when Mr. Stevens, refusing to retract or apologize for certain remarks, announced his resignation as minister of trade and commerce and head of the royal commission in mass buying and price spreads.

The shock was not mitigated when Mr. Bennett, in a long letter, accepted the resignation. The prime minister commended Mr. Stevens' industry and zeal as a minister but denounced in severe terms his remarks concerning the investigation in public speeches and particularly in the now famous "Stevens Pamphlet."

"It is a matter of regret to me," Mr. Bennett wrote, "that you have chosen to resign rather than take the course that may colleagues and myself suggested." The suggestion was that Mr. Stevens correct or withdraw certain statements contained in the pamphlet "with an appropriate expression of regret."

The political storm had been brewing ever since Aug. 5, when copies of this pamphlet, discussing the evidence at the price spread inquiry, reached the public, and it broke just on the eve of the resumption of the probe.

Mr. Bennett's letter and two statements issued by Mr. Stevens on Saturday indicated definite contradictions on two points and an implied contradiction on another.

Mr. Bennett charged Mr. Stevens had prejudiced the case of certain concerns referred to in evidence before the inquiry. Mr. Stevens denied this, claiming the investigation was into a system and no concern or individual was charged with an offence.

Mr. Bennett charged an injustice had been done to certain firms and individuals, which Mr. Stevens also denied.

Community Chest Campaign

Relief For Families That Might Otherwise Be Destroyed

Vancouver.—"There are families today who are in danger of complete disruption," G. C. McGeer, K.C., M.L.A., declared in a public address in behalf of Community Chest campaigns now in progress in various cities of Canada. "In their homes the health of children is being imperilled."

"Now," Mr. McGeer continued, "whether this condition arises from lack of income or from other causes, was private social service not forced upon the family by the government can often bring relief that means the rehabilitation of a family that might otherwise be destroyed."

Purchase Land In Alberta

Two Colonies Of Huttenites Have Settled Near Lethbridge

Lethbridge, Alta. — Purchase of 11,000 acres of farm lands in the Chin district, near Lethbridge, at a cost of $110,000 by the Huttenite brethren was confirmed. Two colonies of Huttenites will occupy the land of which 5,500 acres are ready for crop next spring. One block was formerly owned by R. C. Harvey, Lethbridge sheep rancher. The other was sold by the Canadian Pacific Railway lands department.

Praise For Ferguson

Montreal. — Admiration for the vigor in which Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in London, is pressing Canada's case for a larger share of the lumber market in Great Britain was expressed by C. E. Demy, head of a large London timber firm, who arrived here in the liner Ascania.

Plan To Tattoo Soldiers

Washington. — Every United States soldier would be tattooed, under a plan now before the war department. As a means of identifying dead and wounded, tattooing is advocated by Lieutenant C. L. Whittle of Fort Ontario, N.Y., in The Infantry Journal, official publication of the Infantry Association.

Win Air Derby

England's Brilliant Airman Finished First In Handicap As Well As Speed Race

Melbourne, Australia. — An unofficial check indicated England's brilliant airman, C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, finished first in the handicap as well as the speed race in the Ennard-Melbourne derby. Their official time was 70 hours, 59 minutes, 50 seconds.

But the Dutch entry, which came in 19 hours and 18 minutes behind Scott and Black, and two hours and 42 minutes after the American team of Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, stands an excellent chance of setting the handicap first prize of $10,000.

Under the rules for the derby a pilot cannot win prizes in both races, but must choose between them.

Should Paramere and Moll get the $10,000 handicap prize, the second prize of $7,500 in the speed race would go to Turner and Pangborn. At any rate the Americans are assured of the $2,500 third prize in the speed race.

King George Sends Approval

Praises Work In Canada In Spreading Ideals Of League

Ottawa.—Warm approval by the King of the second national study project of the League of Nations Society in Canada was expressed in a cablegram received from His Majesty by Hon. Ernest LaPrairie, president of the society.

"I have learned with pleasure and approval of the work of the League of Nations Society in Canada in spreading a knowledge of the ideals and work of the League of Nations," said His Majesty. "It is vitally necessary for the promotion of peace and co-operation between peoples that public opinion in all countries should thoroughly understand and appreciate the activities of the league in the task of maintaining, through collective international action, peace and good order in the world. The peoples of the British Empire have borne and will continue to bear a heavy share of this work."

His Majesty's approval was expressed to the League of Nations Society in Canada in the execution of their plans for the coming winter.

Train Sets Record

Streamlined Train Makes Trip Across Continent In 56 Hours And 56 Minutes

New York. — The record-breaking streamlined train of the Union Pacific, the M-10001, rolled into Grand Central station, completing its cross country run from Los Angeles to New York City in 56 hours and 56 minutes.

The timing time for the coast to coast trip set a new record by 14 hours and 31 minutes over the previous record set in 1906 when the late E. H. Harriman, then chairman of the Union Pacific, travelled from San Francisco to New York City in 71 hours and 27 minutes.

Mark Of Appreciation

Dutch Government Gives $400 To Australian Hospital

Melbourne, Australia. — As a mark of appreciation for the aid given by the town of Albury when the Dutch airlines' plane in the England-Australia air derby was lost in that district, the Dutch government is presenting 1,000 florins (about $400) to the Albury hospital.

The gift is in appreciation of the "true sportsmanship" of Albury residents, it was stated. They guided the Dutch plane safely to a landing by controlling the lights of the town from the powerhouse and flashing signals in Morse to the aviators overhead.

Regulate Potato Marketing

Ottawa.—A decision to apply for the setting up of a scheme under the Natural Products Marketing Act to regulate the marketing of potatoes in eastern Canada was practically reached at a session of the potato conference, representing growers, dealers and governments in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. The conference is attempting to work out plans of orderly marketing or the present bumper potato crop in order to ensure the farmer as good a possible a return.

Drouth In China

Damage Is Expected To Reach Amount Exceeding $1,200,000,000

Shanghai, China. — The losses to the Chinese farmers and peasants occasioned by the prolonged drouth and second heat wave of the past spring and summer are expected to exceed $1,200,000,000, according to a report issued by the national famine relief commission, which is based on reports received from the stricken districts.

In the 10 provinces, 263 districts have sent in reports declaring a total of approximately 26,750,000 acres of cultivated lands have been affected by the drouth.

When all surveys are completed it is expected the drouth losses will reach a more appalling total than even the very pessimistic estimate of the national famine relief commission.

A survey conducted by the department of agricultural economics of the national agricultural research bureau of the ministry of industries reveals the damage caused by the drouth in the two provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang alone is in excess of $728,800,000. The area affected in these two provinces is only about one-third of the total area of the 10 provinces hit by the drouth.

For Naval Equality

Japanese Present Their Claim To U.S. Representatives

London.—The Japanese presented their claim for naval equality to representatives of the United States, and they had done in meetings with the British. No action was taken and no official statements were issued, but it seemed obvious that a long and knotty discussion faced the representatives of the world's three leading naval powers.

British and Americans felt that the existing treaties already contain sufficient guarantees for equality in security. Japan would sweep away the existing treaties and replace them with an entirely new structure. In a nutshell, Japan is firm in its determination to remove the existing ratio basis, on which naval categories of Britain, the United States and Japan are fixed on a 5-5-3 ratio respectively. If the other powers will not join her in abrogating the Washington treaty, then she will abrogate it unilaterally—independently.

United Farm Women

Mrs. Goodale Heads Organization In Manitoba

Brandon, Man.—Mrs. M. J. Goodale, Portage la Prairie, was re-elected president of the United Farm Women of Manitoba at its annual convention here Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Arbor, was re-elected vice-president.

Discussions on naturalizations, sterilization of mentally defective persons and problems of the farm occupied the delegates. Resolutions of the organization will be submitted to the general session with the United Farmers of Manitoba for consideration.

Remembrance Day

Ottawa.—The "great silence" between 11 a.m. and 11:02 a.m. on November 11 will be observed in Canada, and the government has issued instructions to provincial and municipal authorities to arrange for suspension of all vehicular traffic during these two minutes. Railway and water transport will not be suspended.

NEW ZEALAND'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL AT HOME

Here is a picture of Viscount and Viscountess Galloway with their children in the grounds of their home, Serby Hall, Bawtry, Yorkshire. The King has approved the appointment of Viscount Galloway to be Governor-General of New Zealand in succession to Lord Bledisloe, whose term of office expires shortly.

Flight Was A Success

Trip Into Stratosphere Quite Satisfactory States Joan Piccard

Cadiz, Ohio. — The stratosphere flight of the Joan Piccard came to an end in a tree-top. The bag of their balloon was badly torn, but the gondola and valuable instruments were undamaged and the Piccards themselves were unhurt.

The Piccards, saying they believed the purpose of their flight had been accomplished, brought the huge bag down after a fight that started from Detroit and carried them an estimated 10 miles into the air.

"The flight was a success," said Mrs. Piccard soon after she climbed from the gondola which settled amid trees near an old logging road on the John Fulton farm, four and one-half miles southwest of here.

Glen Cope, a farmer, made a valiant attempt to halt the balloon as it drifted slowly a short distance above the ground, its ropes dragging. He grabbed a rope and attempted to tie it to a tractor. The floating balloon pulled the rope from his hands and the balloon then scraped the top of a 75-foot cleft, the branches tearing the bag badly but not damaging the gondola. The landing, while rough, merely shook up the Swiss scientist and his wife.

Millions For Air Force

Italy Has Authorized Expenditure For Planes And Material

Rome.—New efficiency in the air for Italy was provided for by Premier Mussolini, acting as minister of aviation, and Guido Jung, minister of finance, in a bill they presented to the chamber of deputies.

It bill authorizes the expenditure of 1,200,000,000 lire ($100,000,000) for "the complete renewal of aeroplanes and accessory material."

Defends Beauty Operations

Chicago.—A defence of the use of the surgeon's knife for the sake of beauty alone when the psychological benefit to be derived by the patient is great, was voiced by Sir Harold Gillis, noted London surgeon. He pleaded for recognition of "aesthetic surgery" and referred to plastic surgery as "the Cinderella of surgery."

Crisis Looms In Austria Over Dangerous Political Situation

Trail Of Death

Maniac In Quebec Runs Amuck And Kills Six People

Quebec.—Bodies of four persons, a man and three women, were at the morgue here, victims of a maniac, while police were searching woods near Ste. Therese, Que., for the bodies of two more whom J. Rossie Bilodeau, 45, admitted having killed.

The trail of death, Bilodeau stated, began when he drove two of his cousins, Gaston Guivin, 20, and Fernan Guivin, 18, into the woods. Leaving him he led them into the woods, killing them.

Then he returned to Quebec and took his two sisters, Marie Bilodeau, 63, and Rosalie Bilodeau, 62, and Yvette Guivin, 21, his niece, to another point in the woods. They also were shot.

Bilodeau, a former postal employee, then burst in to the Quebec post office, slaying Octave Fiset, division superintendent of the Quebec postal service, and injuring Postmaster J. G. L. Morin critically and Moses Jolicoeur, senior mail clerk, superficially.

Bilodeau, after being overpowered in the post office, was taken to police headquarters, where under questioning he told police of five additional slayings. Police immediately took him to St. Theres du Beausport, where he led them to the bodies of the three women, his two sisters and Yvette Guivin.

Want Wage Rate Restored

Canadian Railway Running Trades Advance Arguments

Montreal.—A plea there was no reason for Canadian railways not to follow the lead of United States lines and return to basic wage rates by April 1, 1937, was advanced here by Canadian railway running trades spokesmen at the continuation of their conferences with Canadian Pacific and Canadian National officials, it was learned.

Heads of the Canadian railway running trades represent 35,000 men in their own unions and 65,000 in other sections of rail labor.

Increase of car loadings was understood to be another reason advanced by the men that the time had come for restoration of former wage schedules.

Wins Provincial Honors

Edmonton.—Junior calf club teams from Lacombe and Olds won provincial honors in stock judging competitions here and will get free trips to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, where they will represent Alberta in the Dominion finals. Wylie Thomson and Walter Dunkley of Olds won the junior Dairy Calf Club section. Henry Magilton and Edward Cheeser of Lacombe were victors in the Beef Calf Club finals.

Bracken Makes Plea For Rehabilitation Of Western Drouth Areas

Winnipeg.—A plea directed to every corner of the Dominion for aid in rehabilitating the drouth areas in Western Canada has gone forth from Premier John Bracken of Manitoba.

Visualizing the rain-parched and dust-ridden waste was a spectacle replete with crop failure, food shortage and human suffering that should be eliminated from the agricultural panorama of Canada, the Manitoba premier appealed to provincial premiers to institute a vigorous campaign to bring the problem Dominion-wide attention.

Speaking at the Canadian Club here, Mr. Bracken first told of the critical situation he had found while investigating the drouth areas. Crop failures in large areas of Saskatchewan, in parts of southeastern Alberta and in southwestern Manitoba had plagued him with the agricultural and, consequently, the social fabrics of those areas.

Relief money from municipal, provincial and federal coffers had been expended. But relief money, he contended, did not remedy the situation. Drouths would recur in cycles and unless rehabilitative measures were taken their results would take on more aggravated forms.

Upon the whole Dominion lay the

Vienna.—Events In Austria

appeared to be heading toward a crisis. The political situation at present seems to be more dangerous and complicated, even than it was before July 25, when Chancellor Dollfus was assassinated.

Differences between the Heimwehr (Fascist home guard) and Catholic storm troops appeared to be increasing daily despite official assurances to the contrary.

Open clashes between these two armed groups on which the government depends almost entirely for its existence, were reported from Innsbruck and Graz. In Innsbruck the fighting was so serious police had to be called out.

It was reported that Austrian troops which had been concentrated around the Austro-Yugo-Slav border since the July insurrection in this country had been withdrawn and despatched to upper Austria and upper Styria, where Communist and Socialist forces were said to be planning separate uprisings.

A statement in Die Bundespolizei, newspaper of the national police, that Austria's next revolution "will be an insidious, beastly sight" was followed by raids on Communist, Socialist and National Socialist headquarters and the arrest of more than 70 alleged propaganda agents.

Raiding police uncovered the printing plant and the propaganda offices of the groups opposing the government, and confiscated $50,000 in cash. Each of six issues of the banned Arbeiter Zeitung, socialist organ, printed in October and September.

Plates for a new number just received at the printing shop, located on one of the city's principal shopping streets, were also confiscated.

In the same plant 10,000 copies of pamphlets titled "The Revolution" and 20,000 of another pamphlet were seized, while a stone-mason's home yielded tens of thousands of socialist pamphlets. Eight persons were arrested charged with distributing them.

Three offices of the Communist, "Austrian Red Aid" also were raided. The 20 Socialists and 50 Communists arrested were sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and were sent to a concentration camp. Printers of the Socialist paper probably will be tried on charges of high treason, an official announcement said.

An unannounced number of propaganda agents were arrested in the provinces.

Debaters Start Tour

Halifax.—Opening a debating tour which will take them across Canada, two English undergraduates, Robertson Chrichton of Oxford and Leslie Jackson of Cambridge defeated Dalhousie University when they upheld the affirmative on the subject, "Resolved that this house deplores the rise of Fascism."

Responsibility of attacking the question.

Mr. Bracken pleaded for reclamation of the drouth areas, rehabilitation of the farms, a conservation plan over the entire prairies and sound development of all resources.

"The problem has now assumed proportions of national scope," Mr. Bracken declared. What is needed is:

"The offer by provinces of services of such technical men and departments, without charge, as can be utilized in prosecution of such a major project;

"Appointment by the Dominion of a co-ordinating body to correlate efforts being made in a variety of directions by many individuals, both in and out of the public service, and by many departments both of governments and universities.

"Provision by the Dominion for the necessary additional finances to ensure successful carrying out of a sane, well-balanced program over the next 10 years;

"Active and sympathetic and generous co-operation of individuals, communities, railways and governments in a joint effort to solve a major problem."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

NOT unexpected, yet Hon. Harry Stevens resignation as chairman of the commission investigating methods of mass production causes a profound stir throughout Canada. If capitalistic influence is suspected of causing the Federal government to make Stevens' position untenable, that alone will alienate support of many who have been lifelong supporters of the Conservative party, and will strengthen public support of his determination to further expose unethical practices of big buyers of manufactured goods and exploitation of wage earners.

THAT music hath charms it again demonstrated by the support accorded the tenth annual musical festival of Crows Nest Pass town. A record number of entries, proves that musical education and inspiration is appreciated in times of stress probably to a greater degree than in what were considered more prosperous days. Attendance also by the public shows an increase particularly gratifying to the enthusiastic group who sponsor the festival. Competitors bring joy to others as well as themselves, and those who by donations contribute may feel well rewarded in sharing the joy of achievement which is the aim of those who compete.

CRIME and its causes has been the subject of sixteen exhaustive articles based on opinions of people of world-wide prominence, and published in an international daily newspaper, the Christian Science Monitor. The churches are not free from criticism, in that while effort is not spared to erect costly edifices, daily contact with the classes most needing the churches' influence is neglected. The example of the lowly Jesus and the contrast with lordly dignitaries in church life cause perplexities in the average man's mind. Such thoughts will explain the lessening of church attendance. The church's most valuable work is not achieved by brilliant addresses from the pulpits of ornate churches, but by vitalizing influence every day of the week. "For-sake all and follow Me" is a hard command for people to heed, yet there is the ideal which if practised would eliminate many present-day problems.

TOM UPHILL, Labor member for Fernie in the B. C. legislature, has gone to Russia. The Fernie Free Press states "Tom was particularly secret about his trip." He refused to say who he represented or who was putting up the cash. It has been the practice for several years for parties of men active in the Communist movement in Canada to go to Russia, where they are taken on conducted tours and shown the things most favorable to the Russian plan of government. Whether he goes as a guest of the Communists or as an independent to secure an unbiased viewpoint of Russia time only can tell, and his return will be awaited with no small amount of interest.

ENGLISHMEN and an English manufactured machine prove victorians in the most gruelling aviation test yet recorded. As Alcock and Brown were the first fliers to cross the Atlantic, in 1919, that remarkable feat with a vastly inferior machine to those in use to-day has been overshadowed by other amazing feats in 15 years. Lindbergh's solo flight from New York to Paris aroused the admiration of the world in 1927, establishing his fame as "The Lone Eagle." Kingsford-Smith's flight this week from Australia to California is another epic of the air. These conquests of the air are more to be admired than victories of bloodlust. They denote man's confidence in his ability to combat natural forces such as no other test requires.

USE of superfluous words in writing or public speaking is boring. It is a fault which can be avoided by eliminating non-essential words or phrases. Brevity carried too far may rob a story or an address of its intended effect, but the probability of a flood of words, half of which might be eliminated with good effect, keeps many people away from meetings. The Readers Digest demonstrates how long stories can be shortened by reprinting magazine articles without taking from their vital interest. It cuts out the deadwood with which most stories are encumbered.

Radio Defeating Itself
Signs are multiplying that radio advertising faces a rising tide of public resentment. Average sponsors may not realize to what extent receivers are becoming silent, when strictly commercial programs are on the air. One needs only the witness of his own family circle, or the testimony of numerous friends to know what sort of a revolt is on. The fact was revealed as a nationwide movement during recent hearings in Washington before the Federal Communications Commission—Christian Science Monitor

Mr. J. V. Rovers of Fernie gave an address in St. Alban's church on Sunday evening, and in the morning at St. Luke's, Blairmore, on British-Israel Truth. He stated the Babylonian Age is fast drawing to a close, and that the domination of capitalism will collapse, making for better conditions throughout the world. He also referred to the influence of capitalism in causing the resignation of Hon. Harry Stevens from the Federal cabinet, and the fact that he is a prominent member of the British-Israel Federation. A branch of the organization was recently organized in Coleman, and regular meetings are

Farewell Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reid

On Friday, Oct. 27 the Caledonian Society gathered in the Old Ballroom hall to make a farewell presentation to Mr. and Mrs. George Reid, who intend leaving shortly to live in Scotland, after many years residence in Coleman. Mr. Reid being employed by McGillivray mine. In responding Mr. Reid stated all Caledonians would be welcome at their Scottish home. The members are sorry to see them leave, and wished them good luck in their new venture.

A delightful sketch was staged by the ladies; A. Wilson sang, and the evening closed with the old country dances, such as "Drops o' Brandy," "Flowers o' Edinburg," quadrilles, etc. As a closing number the people sang "Will ye no' come back again" and "Auld Lang Syne."

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY
Author of "The Coronado Trail,"

SNYPOISIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share to plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Four-Glass Ranch, but as Durs Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wilderness outfit.

Old Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now, is returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-glass cattle and plotting to steal them.

Joe Carr's daughter, Edith, repulses Dustin when he wished to make her acquaintance, saying when she walked with a man, it would not be with a square man. He plans revenge, but has had no opportunity so far. Affairs on the ranch going from bad to worse, Joe Carr takes to drink.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Spike gaped at him. Then very slowly realization came. His eyes gleamed and his red face got redder and his wife stiffly heard seemed to bristle like the mane of an angry bound.

"... You know how these damned old fools of prospectors talk. They matters worse old Kane can square himself with Joe Carr by letting him in on what he found on the Hour-glass land. See now?"

never see any one to talk to in six months. When they do get a chance the dam gives way and there's a flood. If old Dad Kane goes in to see hell out about his gold find just as sure as God made it'll apply. He can't help it. The matter of Gray and Corse is bound to come out. . . . Still Spike stared at him. The full import of what Dustin said had not yet sunk in.

"They'll hardly dare tell what they done," he growled. "It'll mean jail for them, too."

"They'll turn State's evidence and get exemption. That's the way Burke, the Prosecutin' Attorney, wins his cases. You poor fool! Can't you see? You'll look good in a striped suit. . . . If it gets that far."

"What do you mean by that? 'If it gets that far?'"

"Huh. That's easy. We're none too popular in the Valley. There ain't a Dry Farmer in thirty miles that don't want our holdins'. If we win that suit over the Springs it'll blow 'em on public lands. They'll be open to all the Dry Farmers. They can water their sheep there, too. That'll ruin 'em for cattle. Even you know that. . . ."

Spike nodded at that truth; the real reason for the constant feud between sheep and cattle-men.

"It'll make no difference to you an' me," said Dustin hotly. "We'll be tucked away where nobody can hurt us. . . . I tell you. . . . We're in a hell of a mess. Old Dad Kane know now just what our men have been doing. He'll make 'em swear to clear themselves, that they were only carryin' out orders from us. It'll all come out. . . . To make Spike Goddard licked his lips in silence and stared at his partner with a feral glare that promised ill to his enemy. He was not a particularly strong man but like most men of his kind, when driven to bay he could fight desperately.

"Well," he croaked, "what's the answer?"

"That's easy. . . ." Dustin drew a breath of relief. To plan as he had planned in the last ten minutes was one thing. But man planning devilment needs help. He knew now that he could count on Spike as never before. Dustin went on:

"... You and me, Spike, have made too much of the Hour-glass to let it ever get into court. Even a man Carr with all his drunken suspicions, don't know what we've milked him for. Thank the Lord we've been too careful to show the source of our income but. . . . We've got a fine lot of cash right now in the office safe. Too dangerous to put it in the Seco bank. I figured we might need it for a get-away if some one spills the beans. . . . Like old Dad Kane. He can do it any minute he chooses to open his mouth and talk. The matter boils down to this. . . . Old Dad Kane has come in here with the finest ore we've ever seen. It was found on the Hour-glass lands and old man Carr doesn't know of it. While he was lookin' for that ore, old Kane found some of our men at work and can send us to jail for what he saw 'em doin'. Got me? You know what's got to be done. I needn't name it. What's the answer?"

Spike Goddard knew that answer but like his partner he dared not put it in speech. Dustin finally dared it.

"Old Kane has got to show us where he found the stuff and then he's got to disappear," he said.

For a long moment silence fell; a silence in which a cricket in the wall chirped loudly and the ticking of the cheap clock on the table sounded like the crack of doom. Spike poured himself another drink. He needed it badly. He knew what was meant.

"How?" he asked hoarsely.

"The less you know personally about it the better for us both," said Dustin. "It's a one-man job and I trust no other man where my own life is at stake. All I say is that I'm not going to jail to please old man Kane or Carr either. Suit you?"

"It sure does. . . ." Spike had sudden visions of himself in a striped suit and he did not admire it. "I'll help you. . . ."

"Help me hell!" said Dustin fiercely. "I tell you it's a one-man job. . . . One-and-a-half that's mine. I'm first in goin' in to Seco on business. Be sure you keep old Dad Kane here. Don't let him leave on any excuse. Tell him I've gone to make arrangements for him to go back to open the mine. Keep him here till I get back. I want to find out all I can about old Kane's finances."

"Huh. From all I hear he ain't got any. How'll you find out?"

"I've got ways you never thought of. . . ." Dustin grinned as a coyote grin at sight of game. "The really big thing for us just now is to get old Kane out of the Springs. He's got to disappear. Dursin's his location is. It'd be right bright to have him disappear and then find out we don't know where he found the gold."

He poured himself another drink and kicked up his hat.

"It'll be on my way," he said. "Be sure you ride hard on Kane."

Spike watched the departing car and when its following dust-cloud was swallowed up turned away to the kitchen.

He was under no illusions as to what Dustin meant when he said that Kane must disappear. During the many years of their partnership he had seen some curious things. Sometimes he thought that that very partnership was the only reason for their mutual safety. Either could hang the other by too much talk. He knew Dustin was a cunning and ruthless man and he knew suddenly that his "dud" of old man Kane would put them both beyond any further need of more money. Dustin was right.

"He'll probably bring home the bacon," he muttered. "Even if he has to kill somebody else's hog to get it!"

That was exactly what Sam Dustin proposed to do. He knew that the conscienceless suit over Soda Springs had cost Carr more than he had. He knew that the Broken Spur depredations on the herds of the Hour-glass had put that ranch in the red. He was sure that Joe Carr must have a lot of money and he meant to find out to whom he owed it. Dustin believed in the strong hand and he knew that Solomon was right when he said: "The borrower is servant to the lender." It was dark when he parked his car before the deserted saloon in Seco. He strode down the main street, turned off at a dark alley and stopped at a little frame bungalow set well back in a clump of dusty Chinaberry trees. The door flew open at his knock and, almost instantly, an old woman came out, a stinking kerosene lamp above her head, stood facing him.

"Evenin', Mis' Peters," he said civilly enough. "Sim in?"

"He went for the mail," said Mrs. Peters. "He ought to be back in a minute. Come in, Mis' Dustin. There comes Sim now." she added.

Expert Skin Grafting

London Surgeon Describes Remarkable Results That Can Be Attained

A method of detaching living skin from one part of the body to another to improve plastic surgery was described to the American College of Surgeons at Boston by Sir Harold Gillies, London surgeon.

The detaching of skin is one of the latest bits of skill. By its use skin, without even losing its living connection with the patient's own blood supply, can be taken from virtually any part of the body, even the back, and transferred anywhere else.

By this method skin has been taken from the outside of the body and detoured to interior cavities to save life.

The detour trip across or lengthwise of the body takes six to nine weeks. The method is known to surgeons as the tubed pedicle flap. The "flap" looks like the handle of a valve.

For detaching abdominal skin to the face, a square section of abdominal skin is first loosened along both opposite sides, lifted and rolled into the form of a tube.

This handle or flap remains fully alive nourished by blood vessels at each end, until it gets accustomed to its semi-independent form of life.

Next one end of the flap is cut free and grafted to the forehead, which can be placed near the abdomen. Over a period of several weeks the skin gets accustomed to this change.

Then the flap handle is detached from the abdomen, but left fastened to the forehead. The forehead is then free to be raised to the face, or whatever other new skin is wanted. The flap's free end is grafted in place on the face. Then finally it is detached from the forehead and the grafting completed on the face.

Sir Harold explained this makes it possible to transfer living skin which can be placed nearly the thin surface but underlying fat and blood vessels.

COLUMBUS

Today the sailor goes on ways as sure
As those of some familiar street at
For him the sea has lost that old
Which
Of course to brave hearts called through wind and foam.
The tang of danger mingled with the
Of that salt in days Columbus sailed.

Out ways unknown to find a continent
Beyond those depths at which the boldest quailed.

Ah! When was ever man as brave
as he,
Who ventured with his flimsy caravel
Upon the untrod waters of a sea
Whose other verge no soul on earth could tell?

For him, to meet those weeks of adventure
For him, to tread on glory's topmost

Builds Model Engines

Miniatures Turned Out By Halifax Engraver Perfectly

A tiny but practical model of an overtype, 16 nominal horsepower engine with long eccentric piston valves will be exhibited by its maker, David Briggs, Halifax engraver, at the Nova Scotia provincial exhibition. The small but powerful contraption turns a model aeroplane swing, and three tumblers of water in the woe boiler will keep it going for over an hour.

There are more than a thousand intricate parts of steel, copper and brass but it only took the miniature machinist three months to put them together. Mr. Briggs, whose hobby is mechanical models, has also constructed a working reproduction of the mechanism of a paddle-wheel ferry steamer which will fit in a suitcase and engaged his spare time for 17 months, a tug boat engine; and a larger overtype engine which will generate power for 120 minutes.

Something To Know

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of ice water to which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them set for half an hour and they'll be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you really lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Free Samples at Druggists of the Remarkable New Aid in the Prevention of Colds

Local Druggists Are Now Offering a Free Trial Of Vicks Va-trol-nol For Nose and Throat—Also Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

NEW PREVENTION IDEA

This Discovery Introduces Unique Vicks Plan For Better Colds-Control

HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

Following years of research on the problem of colds, Vicks Chemists have developed a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Va-trol-nol, for nose and throat. This new Vicks preparation is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds.

These two Vicks preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of the Plan in reducing the number and duration of colds has been clinically tested by physicians. (Full details of the Plan are in each package of Vicks Va-trol-nol and of Vicks VapoRub.)

Briefly, here is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds

Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition that you know is apt to be followed by a cold, such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds—colds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—sudden changes in temperature—excesses in living, such as overeating, smoking, drinking, which reduce body resistance.

To Help Shorten a Cold

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub well over throat and chest at bedtime. Through the night, VapoRub, after the direct action of two ways at once—by stimulation, direct through the skin, like a poultice or plaster, and by inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to the inflamed air-passages. This long-continued double action loosens and soothes irritated membranes, eases difficult breathing, and helps break congestion.

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Va-trol-nol every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment without the risks of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion—especially of children.

Trials Packages Free

Your druggist has free combination packages containing trial sizes of Vicks Va-trol-nol and VapoRub—also folder telling how these twin aids to fewer colds and shorter colds are used in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Ask for yours today, as your druggist's supply is limited.

Little Helms For This Week

"Wherefore beloved be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless." 2 Peter 3:14.

His conscience knows no secret

While grace and joy combine
To form a life whose holy springs
Are hidden and divine.
—Isaac Watts

Even the smallest discontent of conscience may render turbid the whole temper of the mind; but only produce the effort that restores peace and over the whole atmosphere breath of unexpected purity is spread, doubt and irritability pass as clouds away, the withered sympathies of earth and home open their leaves and live, and through the clearest blue the deep is seen of the heaven where God resides.—J. Martineau.

The state of mind that is described as meekness, or quietness of spirit, is characterized in a high degree by inward harmony. There is not as formerly that inward jarring of thought contending with thought, and conscience asserting rights which it could not maintain.

The Right Thing

A truck driver stalled his machine on the tracks as a fast express was coming. The truck was smashed but the driver stepped out in time and watched the performance. Looking up on the express he saw a sign that read: "Act in an Emergency," we find the truck driver did exactly what he should have done.

Will the party who took the wrong cap by mistake, at the hockey club dance on Friday evening, please return to The Journal office where he will receive his own.

A good crowd attended the Hockey club dance on Friday evening, large numbers coming from neighboring towns to help the club make a success of its first social event of the season. President Frank Cregan expects to show a profit of over $50, and appreciates the support accorded by the public.

To give importance and worthy notice to any event, The Journal is the place to announce it. Dinky little pieces of paper and scraps of cardboard which many do not stop to read are often unnoticed. They look cheap and they are cheap, giving a cheap impression of that which they try to advertise.

Nick Waznie, who will be remembered as a star player on Coleman's imported hockey team seven years ago, has been left out in the cold this year after playing five years in the national hockey league. Waznie played for Ottawa last winter and with St. Louis taking over the Ottawa franchise this year they are endeavoring to build a strong team and as a result Waznie has been let out.

Mrs. Wyndham Jones (nee Ardell McNabb), whose marriage was a recent event, is leaving today to take up residence at Coleman. During the past week she has been honored or guest at many social events, including a tea towel shower given by Mrs. D. A. Clark and a joint linen shower with Miss Rose Shatz and Miss Fern Hepler as hostesses. Mrs. Glen Jones and Mrs. Frank McNabb also entertained delightfully at teas in her honor.—Lethbridge Herald.

The Journal last week was the innocent cause of a rift in the harmony of one home. A lady was sitting calmly reading the week's news, and coming to one item in which her husband's name was featured, he immediately became the target for a verbal barrage of considerable force and energy. People demand the news, especially that which is of an unusual nature, for such things are considered newsworthy. But—apparently it is at times difficult to withhold names especially when exuberant husbands' doings are liable to upset the serenity of a quiet household.

Inspector of mines, accompanied by Harry Gardner, Jack and Sonny Richards and Harold Chamberlain, went to the fan near the mine office to test the air for gas.
